Part VII

93(a) Conferences, workshops and training

In continuance of QFG's aim of creating a world-wide network of individuals that are capable of the highest levels of critical analysis in the numerous disciplines and inter-disciplinary fields in which the work of the Quantum Future Group takes place it is essential for people to meet. In meeting each other the bonds of a true and lasting network are established.

During 2007, QFG held a number of conferences and workshops and hosted numerous visiting researchers and academics. One conference was attended by about 70 of the researchers associated with QFG, lasted 2 weeks, with guest attendees and speakers Richard Dolan (internationally acclaimed author UFOs and the National Security State) and Alexandra Bruce (author of Beyond The Blink and Beyond the Secret). A conference and workshops related to the matters of health and wellness were held with visiting speakers and practitioners from Costa Rica, Spain and the UK.

This provided the attendees with a unique opportunity to discuss the most advanced areas of research with acknowledged leaders in the relevant fields.

The 2007 workshops and conferences have enabled the group to consolidate its volunteer base, streamlining many of its activities and improving productivity. Growth has not been as easy to achieve as was hoped at the end of 2006 but plans remain for the establishment of nodes of activity in numerous countries throughout the world.

In addition, considerable training of volunteers in languages other than English has enabled the non-English language material offered by QFG to be expanded both in print and via the internet.

The achievements detailed above has enabled the group, and will enable the group in the future, to meet its principal objective stated in Part III above.

Although the research and publications of the group are available free for anyone in the world with an internet connection, some of the web content is made available in hard copy in order to raise operating funds. Additionally, where a web-based format would not do justice to the material being presented or enable people to "have their own copy" hard copy editions of the material are sold in book form.

As previously detailed in correspondence with the IRS this has been demonstrated to be both educational, pursuant to the group purpose and not "unrelated commercial activity".

QFG operates the Quantum Future School, a residential think tank for academics and individuals with a talent for original research. Located at this think tank are researchers which include the President and Vice President of QFG and the directors whose address is listed as "Chateau St Martin Belacasse" in Part V-A of Form 990.

These researchers are resident, either permanently or temporarily, at the QFG think tank HQ. While resident, QFG provides to researchers food and lodging, medical care and small discretionary expenses.

The research is applied in the pursuit of QFG's exempt purpose as detailed in Form 990 and Explanatory Attachment.

All residents contribute to the overall running of the think tank HQ including the hosting of events and guests.
